

Read the following paragraph then find out the main clauses and the adverb clauses of time.

Yesterday was my first work day.

When I arrived, I didn't know where to go.

While I was asking the security man,
a friendly lady passed by and took me for around in my department.

I started working after we had the breakfast.

Once I finished the last report was there,
the secretary brought me another one.

At the end of the day, they told me not to come the following day. I was really about to cry before I realized that it would be Friday.
