

THE PASSIVE...

Often, S V O
people eat bread with every meal.

Often, O»S BE P.PART bread is* eaten with every meal.

*eat = present simple so BE has to be in present simple as well (=is)

Put the verbs from the earlier passage into this passage using the passive form

Bread is a very popular food. Often, it is eaten (eat) with every meal.

But where does it come from and how _____(make)?

Usually, bread _____ (make) from wheat, which _____ (grow) in a field.

When the wheat is ripe, it _____(harvest). Then it _____ (take) to the flour mill. At the mill, it _____(grind) into flour.

At a factory, the flour _____(mix) with salt, water and yeast to make dough. When the dough has risen, it _____(cut) into pieces and the pieces _____(shape) into loaves. The loaves _____(put) on trays and then they _____(put) in the oven to bake. After about an hour, the bread _____(take) out of the oven and it _____ (leave) to cool. Then, the bread _____(slice) by a machine and it _____ (put) into plastic bags.

Finally, the bread _____(deliver) to the shop where it _____ (sell) to customers.

