Last Sunday morning, Haji Rosman wanted to get some firewood. He paddled his boat to the nearest jungle. He tied up his boat to a tree and went to the jungle to collect some firewood.

Without his knowing, a deer had jumped into his boat and fell asleep. A few minutes later, Haji Rosman came back with some fire woods and was surprised to see a deer inside his boat. He paddled slowly so that the deer will not wake up.

When he passed by a group of fisherman, they shouted loudly at Haji Rosman asking about the deer. Their loud voice woke the deer up and it jumped into the river. Haji Rosman was surprised and sad to see the deer had escaped.
