

Read the text and match the headings with the paragraphs.

PROS and CONS of city life

No matter your skills, education degree, or age, there will be a job that will be convenient for you.

There are restaurants, cafes, and shops in almost every corner in the big city. From local to international restaurants and shops can be seen in the city.

Regular, well-connected transport lines are always circling the cities. You have a number of choices of transport in the city including cabs or your own car.

You can never get bored in a big city, you can visit parks, museums, libraries, international gatherings and festivals. You can meet different people from all around the world.

Cities are densely populated and crowds are everywhere. There's constant noise from the buzzing crowds or vehicles.

From dining at a restaurant to buying clothes, you will need more money to do these things in the city than in the country.

In the big city, you'll probably find one or two close friends and that's it. Everyone is dealing with their own life to pay attention to other people.

In addition to noise pollution, there's also air pollution in the big city. All vehicles going up and down the streets leave fumes and bad gasses that you breathe in.

Facilities and shops

Costly style of living

No sense of community

Public transport

Cultural abundance

Pollution

Plenty of jobs opportunities

Crowds and noise

Read about pros and cons of country life. Discuss the questions below

PROS and CONS of country life

Cleaner air  The fewer vehicles on the road - the less pollution. This is what you get in the countryside.	Lack of job opportunities  The countryside doesn't offer you an abundance of job offers.
Calming Scenery  Retrieving in the countryside will be a gift for your eyes. Green is the colour that calms the eyes and in the countryside, there's plenty of green scenery to enjoy.	Transport  Public transport is scarce. This means that you almost certainly need to have a car so you can travel to the city for work.
Peace and quite  Away from the bustling city, in the countryside, you can enjoy the peace and quiet in your own home with no car horns, or crowd noises under your window.	Lack of facilities  In the countryside, there are mostly small local shops. So, for your shopping sprees, you should go to the city.
Community  In smaller communities, it's easier to make connections and friendships with your neighbours. The community feel is very much present in the countryside.	Poor reception  The countryside, although not necessarily, often has bad phone reception. It depends on the area you're in, so maybe check up on this before moving to the countryside.

What are the advantages of living in the countryside?

What are the disadvantages of living in the countryside?

How is the countryside different from town?

What do people living in the countryside like to do?

Do youngsters prefer living in rural areas? Why or why not?

Do you think it is better to live in the countryside or in the city?