

A FACTORY OF DREAMS

BUT THERE WAS ONE OTHER THING THAT THE GROWNUPS ALSO KNEW, AND IT WAS THAT HOWEVER SMALL THE CHANCE MIGHT BE OF STRIKING LUCKY, THE CHANCE IS THERE. THE CHANCE HAD TO BE THERE

1- In no more than 3 lines describe the city where you live. Think about one positive and one negative aspect of it. Then, jot down one happy memory of you in your city, in the streets, with your friends, with family or by yourself.

2- Read the excerpt and complete the table.

In the town itself, actually within sight of the house in which Charlie lived, there was an ENORMOUS CHOCOLATE FACTORY!

Just imagine that!

And it wasn't simply an ordinary enormous chocolate factory, either. It was the largest and most famous in the whole world! It was WONKA'S FACTORY, owned by a man called Mr. Willy Wonka, the greatest inventor and maker of chocolates that there has ever been. And what a tremendous, marvelous place it was! It had huge iron gates leading in to it, and a high wall surrounding it, and smoke belching from its chimneys, and strange whizzing sounds coming from deep inside it. And outside the walls, for half a mile around in every direction, the air was scented with the heavy rich smell of melting chocolate!

Twice a day, on his way to and from school, little Charlie Bucket had to walk right past the gates of the factory. And every time he went by, he would begin to walk very, very slowly, and he would hold his nose high in the air and take long deep sniffs of the gorgeous chocolatey smell all around him.

Oh, how he loved that smell!

And oh, how he wished he could go inside the factory and see what it was like!

Words used to describe the factory
How is Willy Wonka described?
What came out of the factory?
This is what Charlie did every day:
Charlie's wish
Guess: What did Charlie's city look like?
Guess: the season and the weather that day.

3) Watch the video and answer the following questions.

- ❖ What did the city actually look like?
- ❖ Why was the factory closed?
- ❖ What were people's reaction to the announcement?

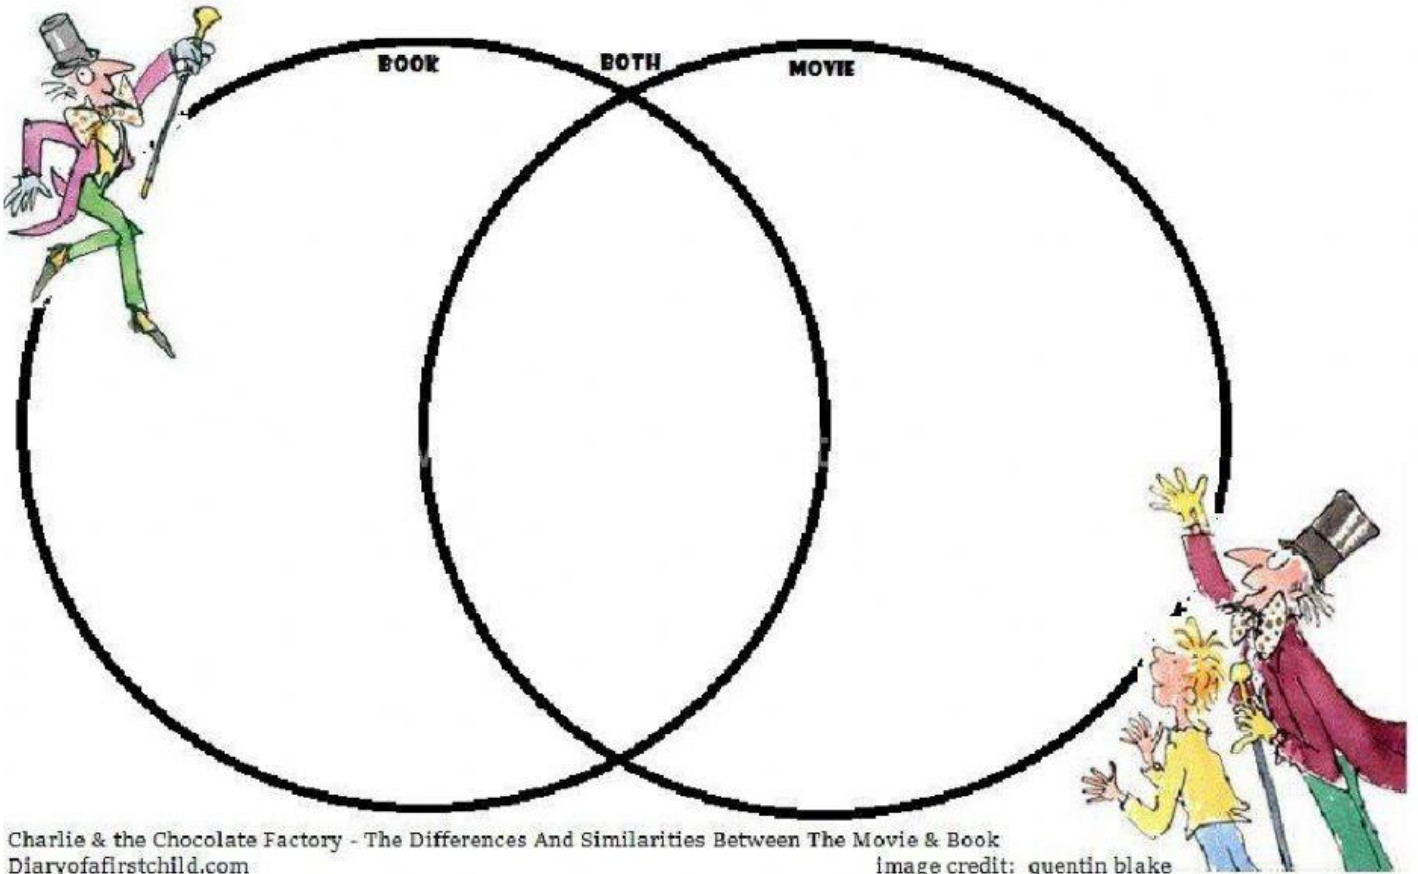

4) Compare the two settings. To compare we can use different structures.

For example: The setting on the book is more joyful / less joyful.

In the movie, the city isn't as joyful as it is in the book.

The most joyful of the two, is the movie.

In both, the city is grey.

5) Imagine that the factory is set in a different city. Totally different. What changes could we see? Write a different beginning for the story and place the factory in an entirely different setting such as a beach, a volcano, a cave, etc.

A large rectangular area enclosed by a dashed purple border, intended for writing a story beginning.
