

Syllabication

Write the syllables in the table.

Then identify whether it is an open syllable, closed syllable or CVCe syllable.

An example has been done.

NOTE: Watch out for diphthongs (two letters that make just one sound put together), like "ae", "ei", "io", "st", "ck", "tr", etc. Those count as just ONE vowel or consonant sound! Some of these are really difficult, so pay attention.

Word	1st syllable	2nd Syllable	3rd Syllable	4th Syllable animal
planet
beehive
erode
hurt introduce rotten
frequent
worry
reduce nickname
fever

injection
rarely
deadly
nickname
destroy
colon
extreme
hornet
eyelids
thumbtacks
flesh
insect
scare careful
through human cyberbully

What vowel sound does an open syllable make?	Long	Short
What vowel sound does a closed syllable make?	Long	Short
What vowel sound does a CVCe/Magic E syllable make?	Long	Short