CouchSurfing – a different kind of travel experience

by Emma Jackson

I love travelling abroad, but two years ago I didn't have much cash to spend on my holiday. At first, I was planning to go camping again, but then a friend suggested an alternative: CouchSurfing. I had no idea what that was, so she explained. 'CouchSurfers' are people who stay as guests in other people's homes for free, and visit the sights in the local area. You can do the things that most tourists do, like sunbathing on the beach or sightseeing in the town centre. Or your host could give you a language lesson, teach you how to cook local delicacies, or take you to places that visitors never find. It sounded much more fun than my other holidays, so I joined the website and sent emails to about twenty hosts in France and Spain right away.

A few days later, I already had ten replies. After a week or two of emails, I made arrangements with four hosts in three different cities. I'm quite talkative and they seemed very friendly, so I wasn't concerned about spending time with strangers. Two weeks later, I was arriving in Paris, and meeting my first host, Claudette.

Over the next ten days, I stayed in four very different homes, improved my foreign languages, and made some great new friends. Sometimes the places where I stayed were basic – a sofa to sleep on, or even just a floor, but sometimes they were luxurious – much nicer than the hostels that I usually go to. I think it was probably the cheapest and most interesting holiday I've ever had!

I've done CouchSurfing again twice since then: in Italy, and here in the UK. I'll definitely do it again. In fact, I'm going on a trip to South America next year.

And I've had five visitors at my place, including Claudette. I've discovered that hosting is as much fun as exploring a new place. CouchSurfing is a fantastic experience. Try it some time!

EARTH DAY 2021

Earth Day happens every year on April 22nd to raise awareness of how important to look after our planet. The theme for the 2021 Earth Day is 'Restore Our Earth', The Earth has changed significantly because of human actions, like global warming, deforestation and pollution.

Why do we need to restore the Earth? Most industry, electricity and transport are powered by burning fossil fuels. This gives out large amounts of CO₂ gas into the Earth's atmosphere, which causes a climate change, known as global warming. Global warming has caused ice to melt, sea levels to rise and more unpredictable and extreme weather events. Forests cover around 30% of the Earth, but they are being cut down for farming land or timber. Deforestation destroys the animals' homes and causes many animals to be endangered. In 2019, an area of forest about the size of a football field was cut down every minute. There are around 9 billion tons of plastic on Earth. Plastic takes around 500 years to decompose so large amounts of unwanted plastic ends up polluting our oceans. Plastic get broken into small particles, called microplastics. Many animals think they are food and eat them.

How Can We Restore Our Earth? Governments are trying to solve some of the issues affecting the planet. Lots of countries are now using renewable 'green' energy which uses Earth's energy like sunlight, wind or water. Many people now drive electric cars which release less CO₂ and are better for the environment. Furthermore, the UK has planned to end all sales of petrol cars in 2030. Around 190 countries have signed a contract called The Paris Agreement. This is a promise to keep global warming below 2°C. Tree-planting projects aim to regrow trees to absorb CO₂ and create new habitats for animals. Many people are working hard to recycle and reduce the plastic that they use. In the UK, bars and restaurants offer paper straws instead of plastic ones and plastic bags are no longer free of charge.
