Kishan's film

Kishan Shrikanth is 14 years old. He lives in India and he's very famous there. Why? Because he's a film director! His new film is in cinemas in India this year. It's called Care of Footpath.

Care of Footpath is very different from other Bollywood films. It isn't a comedy or a musical. It's the story of a young street child in Bangalore. Street children in India are very poor. They live on the streets of big cities. Their lives are very hard. They don't go to school and it's difficult for them to change their lives.

Care of Footpath is very sad in the beginning but it has a happy ending. The main character in the film is called Slummu. Slummu has a dream. He wants to go to school and study, but how? At the end of the film, Slummu's dream comes true!

Kishan wants to help street children in India and other countries. He says Care of Footpath is for street children all over the world. The message of the film is 'nothing is impossible'. At the moment Kishan is making another film. It's about a group of Indian teenagers and their different problems!
