

Read and choose the best option:

1.- The number of people living in one square kilometre.

→ _____

2.- The total number of people living in an area, such as a town, a city, or a country. → _____

3.- To calculate density of population we use the _____ formula:

4.- Talking about density of population there are 2 types of population:

a) _____

b) _____

POPULATION

POPULATION

5.- The scientific study of population and how and why it changes: _____

6.- Buildings are close together in cities, so the population density is _____ .

7.- People often live in houses separated by distance, so the density is _____.

8.- There are about _____ million inhabitants in Spain.

9.- The most populated areas of Spain are:

1.- _____

2.- _____

10.- Changes in population are the result of several factors:

1.- _____ rate/ _____ rate

2.- _____ / _____

11.- Spain's population is ageing. This means that: each year there are a greater number of _____ and fewer _____ in our country.

12.- Factors that affect ageing on Population in Spain:

1.- _____ IN THE BIRTH RATE.

2.- _____ IN LIFE EXPECTANCY.

3.- INTERNAL MIGRATION.

4.- _____ MIGRATION.

13.- _____ is the number of years a person will live on average.

14.- When people move from another country to live:

15.- Number of babies born lately: _____

16.- When people move to another part of the same country to live: _____.