Unusual Talent

Stevie Starr is a performer who first became famous when he appeared on the television talent show Britain's Got Talent. Stevie's unusual talent quickly made him a big hit. In less than a week, a video of him performing on BGT, as the show is known, was watched more than a million times.

So what does Stevie do? He swallows things and then brings them back up again. By things I don't mean food though; Stevie's eating habits are a little stranger than most. He has been known to swallow golf balls, snooker balls, keys, rings – you name it, Stevie has probably swallowed it! And the amazing thing is, everything he swallows comes back up good as new.

Stevie says he learned his unique talent as a young boy in children's home. The bigger boys would bully him and steal his pocket money, so Stevie started to swallow the coins to keep them safe. Then, when he needed one, he learned to bring it back up into his mouth again.

Ever since his appearance on BGT Stevie has been very busy performing his act to audiences around the world. In fact, these days his tour schedule is totally full and it's all thanks to his performance on live TV – even though he never even made it to the final of the talent show, which just goes to that you don't always have to win to become a success.

Stevie says he is the only one that does this, swallowing things, as his job. One thing is for sure, his act certainly is very unique – and very dangerous. Most people would give themselves a serious injury if they tried to swallow the things Stevie does. They might even cause themselves to choke. So just remember; Stevie is a professional; enjoy his act, but never – ever – try this at home!
