Learning about friendship

The book Impression Management, <sup>1</sup> which / that is about the different relationship between people, was written by Barry R Schlenker, <sup>2</sup> whom / who is an American professor. The main reason <sup>3</sup> why / which Schlenker wrote the book was he felt that people should have more information about relationships. The main idea of the book, <sup>4</sup> who / which argues that people try to control how others see them in almost every social relationship, was not particularly popular in 1980, <sup>5</sup> where / when the book was first published. However, in the universities and colleges <sup>6</sup> where / that the book was taught, there were many students <sup>7</sup> that / whom felt that Schlenker's thoughts on relationships were important once <sup>8</sup> that / to which people should learn about and discuss. Much of the support the book received, for which Schlenker was very thankful, came from his own students. He was also very thankful to his wife, parents and colleagues <sup>9</sup> who / whose advice and encouragement helped him greatly. At the beginning of the book, Schlenker says that it was these people and these relationships <sup>10</sup> why / which made the production of Impressive Management possible.
