

UNIT 7 PULSE 2

JOURNEY

Land Transportation

One of the earliest transportation on land was the _____ (1). It was used to move people and goods. Now, a _____ (2) is used to transport goods. A _____ (3) is a British term for a bus. It carries passengers on long distance journeys. However, some people prefer travelling in a _____ (4) to save money on lodging.

The motorcycle invented in 1894, was innovated from the _____ (5) when people found pedalling very tiring for long-distance travel. A _____ (6) is a type of 'train' that travels through towns; mainly found in European countries whereas _____ (7) refers to the underground railway line in London.

Water Transportation

A _____ (8) is a large watercraft that can travel on long journeys, but a ferry is mostly used for shorter trips. A _____ (9) is a medium-sized sailing boat. It is usually used for recreation such as cruising or racing.

Air Transportation

The first time a human could enjoy a ride up in the sky was in a _____ (10). Now, people can fly around the world on a plane. The furthest distance a helicopter can go is only 400 kilometres, carrying only three to four passengers at a time.

Use the words below:

yacht

bicycle

ship

lorry

horse and carriage

coach

caravan

tram

hot air balloon

the Underground