My friends Zoe and Amy are interesting people. Zoe is quite (1) (artistic/handsome/trendy), as she likes painting and drawing as well as music. Amy is very athletic, (2) (although/as/like) she enjoys playing sport and she likes to keep fit. They're both very sociable people, as they're friendly and good at meeting people. They're both very generous too, as they're always paying (3) (for/with/from) other people's meals. We have great fun together! For Amy's birthday, Zoe and I got her a cake that looked like a basketball, as she loves that sport. Zoe and I ate most of it, as Amy's very healthy. She eats a lot of (4) (fizzy/fresh/frozen) fruit and vegetables and she never drinks fizzy drinks, only drinks that are sugar-low. But for birthdays, you must have a cake! We even had ice cream too, because it goes very well (5) (with/from/about) cake!

Hijack

Some people are afraid of flying. They are worried that the plane will crash or that someone may hijack it. A person who hijacks a plane usually says he will blow up the plane if he does not get money. Sometimes hijackers do not want money, however. They want other things. They sometimes want their friends to let out of jail or to go to another country.

The first hijacking happened on the 16th June 1948 on a plane travelling from Macau to Hong Kong. Some men with guns told the pilot they wanted money. The pilot fought them but the hijackers shot him. The plane crashed into the sea and nearly everyone in it died. Only one man lived. His name was Wong-yu Man. When the police brought the plane out of the sea, they looked at it very carefully and found bullet holes in the walls of the plane. They knew then that there had been a hijack.

A policeman sat near Wong-yu Man's bed in the hospital. Before long, Wong-yu started to talk in his sleep. "Where are my men?" he said. "Are they all right? Did they get the money?" The policeman wrote everything down. He knew Wong-yu's words meant something. He thought Wong-yu was one of the hijackers. He was right. When Wong-yu came out of the hospital, he went to jail for a long time.
