

I'm moving in next week. I bought a (large) house than the house I'm living now. The garden is the (good)! I've been living in a town, in a small house, with a pretty little garden and a thin fence around it. However, the new one is (big) and (beautiful). I've never been (happy) before!

My new home is in one of the (pretty) city I've ever known, but the (bad) part of moving in to the new city is that it's (expensive) than my little town, my savings in my bank account are getting (thin), and also the weather forecast said the next week it's gonna be the (hot) week in this month... but I'm quite sure I made the choice!
