B. Read the beginning of a dialogue at a restaurant and answer the questions.

Carmen: Good day Sir, my name is Carmen and I'll be your waitress. How many (people) are you?

Robert: Thank you, Carmen. We are four, my wife and my two kids.

Carmen: Would you like to drink something before ordering?

Robert: Well I think that my kids are thirsty, but for milk.

Carmen: Milk. All right, here are the drinks. Are you ready to order now?

Robert: I think so. I would like to have some chicken and salad.

Carmen: Alright! And the lady?

Christine: I would like to have rice and fried fish, please.

Carmen: No problem. What about the kids?

Robert: They would like some French fries. I know it is not very healthy, but they love them.

Carmen: Perfect, sir. I'll be right back with your order.

Robert: Thanks a lot.
