

Editing for Spelling + Grammar

The Write Tribe

Exercise 1- Spelling

Each of the underlined words contains a spelling error. Write the correct word in each of the boxes.

1.

Mr Goh has been feeling very tired lately. He has not had inuf sleep.

2.

He has been overloaded with work risentli.

Mr Goh works in a Japanese company. He has been working there for over feftiin years now. Last month, the company had a change in menajement.

3.

4.

Now, Mr Goh's boss is a Japanese man who has just moved to Singapore. He is slowly adapting to Singaporean kulcher. However, he has a different style of 6.

5.

working. Mr Goh is lernying to adapt to this new working style. As a result, there are 7.

many things that Mr Goh has to do ehfrash. Mr Goh is rushing to finish his work by the 8.

9.

dedlaine that his new boss has given him. After having worked tireluhssli for almost three weeks, Mr Goh finally manages to complete all his work. Mr Goh's new boss is 10.

11.

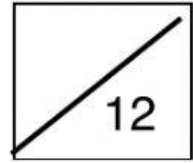

very pleezed with Mr Goh's work performance. He is also imprased with Mr. Goh's 12.

attitude. As a riwahrd, Mr. Goh's boss is taking him to lunch today. It will be a good opportunity for Mr. Goh to get to know his boss better.

Exercise 2 - Spelling

Each of the underlined words contains a spelling error. Write the correct word in each of the boxes.

'The milk chocolate that melts in your mouth, not in your hands.'

1.

2.

Does that sound femilier? It is the feymus M&M's slogan. How did these 3.

4.

kahlurful, delicious sweets come about? M&M's were invahntid by a man named Forrest Mars. During the Spanish Civil War, he observed soldiers eating pieces of 5.

6.

chocolate that were covered in a hard, shoogery coating. The coating preevhented the chocolates from melting in the hot sun. Mars then took this idea and came up with the mehnuufacturing process for this. This process was then patented on 3 March 1941.

7.

8.

When M&M's were first sold to the public, they were packaged in kahrdbord tubes.

9.

This later changed in 1948 to what we recognise now as the dystinctiv brown 10.

packaging. Another yewnike feature of M&M's is the letter 'm' that is printed on every 11.

piece of chocolate. This is done through the use of vejteble dye. Then in 1954, Peanut 12.

M&M's were introwdewsed. It was also in this year that the well-known slogan was first used. Both were trademarked that year.

12

Exercise 3 - Spelling

Each of the underlined words contains a spelling error. Write the correct word in each of the boxes.

1.

Charles kept to himself a lot. He had always been an ihntrahvert. Charles found it difficult to make new friends ever since nersehry. He was always too shy to make the first move.

2.

3.

On the other hand, whenever someone eprouched him, he would be too shy to continue 4.

a conversation. As a rizult, Charles did not have many friends in school. During recess, 5.

all the other pupils would be running about boysturoesli. Instead of joining in, Charles 6.

would sit in a konner eating his snacks. One day, when Charles arrived at the classroom,

7.

8.

he found suhmwan else already there. It was a new pupil. He was syited at the back of 9.

the classroom, reading quietly. The two boys looked at each other aukwerdly for a 10.

moment. Then, a frekshen of a smile appeared on the new pupil's face. Charles nodded 11.

his head slaitely in response. Later when the bell rang for recess, everybody skrembeld out in a hurry. Only Charles and the new boy were left. The boy walked towards Charles and asked him, "Would you accompany me during recess? I do not know anyone in school yet."

Exercise 4 - Spelling

Each of the underlined words contains a spelling error. Write the correct word in each of the boxes.

1.

Snoopy is probably the most famous black and white dog in the world. He is the paht beagle of a boy named Charlie Brown. Charlie Brown and Snoopy are karekters from the comic strip 'Peanuts' created by Charles M. Schulz. Snoopy made his first appearance on 4 October 1950. Snoopy was actually inspyered by one of Schulz's own 4.

2.

3.

childhood dogs. Snoopy is a loyal, imejinetive and good-natured dog. In the comic strip,

5.

he is often shown imagining fentesi lives. One of his more famous imaginary lives is 6.

7.

that of a World War I Rohye Flying Corps ace. In this life, Snoopy would daun on 8.

aviator's helmet, pilot goggles and a scarf. Of course, Snoopy is not purfekt.

9.

10.

Sometimes, he can be salfysh or lazy. He often moxx Charlie Brown, but he is 11.

ultimately a loyal dog and loves Charlie Brown. Snoopy is often seen with his ikwelly famous best friend and sidekick, Woodstock. Woodstock is a little yellow bird. He 12.

chrips in a lenguaje that only Snoopy and other birds seem to understand.

Sometimes, Woodstock even sleeps on top of Snoopy's nose.

Exercise 5 - Spelling

1.

Samantha had to be in school earlier than usual yesterday. She had been tusqed by her teacher to set up the sound system in the school hall yesterday morning. The school was salebreiting the 95th year since its founding. There was to be a grand 3.

2.

ceremony with an ehmynent guest, followed by a concert. The Prime Minister had 4.

been invited to grace the occasion with his prezense as he had been an ex-student of 5.

the school. Because of his steytus, his security team had arrived in the school an hour before the events of the day commenced. They had to ennsher that everything was in 7.

6.

order. The school was soon ebuhz with activity. Everyone, from students to teachers,

