a) What is the most popular take-away food in Britain?

b) How much fish do they sell each year?
