WORLD FOODS

A. Vegemite is black and salty. It's definitely not crunchy, but it's the best thing on bread or toast. It's the most delicious thing to have in your sandwiches day or night. It's also the richest source of B vitamins. You don't need much vegemite to experience the full flavor of it. Not everyone likes the taste, but everyone should try it once.

B. Try some skutaq, Eskimo ice cream. It's made from animal fat and is cold and creamy. Traditional skutaq doesn't taste sweet because there isn't any sugar in it. Alaskan akutaq has sugar and it's the sweetest ice cream around. There are lots of different flavors: fish, dried berries, salmon eggs. The fish ice cream is the crunchiest. Dried berry flavor is my favorite. It can taste sour when there are lots of berries.

C. Come to Thailand to try the smelliest fruit in the world: the durian fruit. Don't try to take it home on the subway: you can't! It doesn't taste like it smells, and it's actually very juicy. Remember to hold your nose when you cut it open! It's not my favorite fruit. I prefer pineapples!

Between May and September (our warmer months), more than 1.5 million tourist come here. They take boats and airplanes to see our dramatic scenery and our awesome wildlife, like moose and gray wolves. But we have dangerous animals, too. In the Denali National park, there are grizzly bears. I think they're much scarier than sharks.

I can tell you: these bears are definitely not cute. And you can't just sit in a kayak or climb a tree to escape from a grizzly bear: they can swim, and they can climb trees!

So what amazing outdoor activities attract tourists to Alaska? Of course, like in Australia, hiking, mountain biking, and kayaking are popular. But people can go snowmobiling here. And lots of people come to see the exciting Iditarod dog sled race. The race is in early March, when the weather is extremely cold and snowy. It's so cold that the dogs wear shoes!

When it's vacation time for me, I just stay in Alaska. Come and visit. If you do, you won't be sorry! Alaska rocks!
