

1. Read and answer the questions.

Old and modern mobile phones

Old mobile phones

By Tara and Ben

This is one of the first mobile phones. It was very big and heavy, so people couldn't carry it around. It was also expensive, so only a few people had them. You could phone other people but you couldn't take photos. You could speak to your friends, but you couldn't play games with them because there was no Internet connection. Everything on the screen was black and white.

Smartphones

By Dex and Kenzo

This is a smartphone. It's got a flat, colour screen, a camera and a microphone. Today most people use smartphones. You can go online and play games with this smartphone. You can search the Internet and listen to music. You can chat to your friends, take photos and even make your own videos. You can also download apps for all kinds of things!

1. Why didn't many people have a mobile phone?
 - a) They've got flat, colour screens.
 - b) You can download apps.
 - c) Because they were expensive.
 - d) Because there was no Internet connection.
2. Why couldn't you play games online on the old mobile phones?
3. How are the screens on smartphones different from the old mobile phones?
4. What can you download onto a smartphone?

2. Match and make sentences with so.

so

We use so to expand on an idea or fact.

Example: Smartphones have an Internet connection, so people can download music.

1. I've got a laptop
 2. Smartphones have got Wi-Fi
 3. Old computers were heavy
 4. I've got a digital camera
- a) so I can look for information.
 - b) so you couldn't carry them.
 - c) so I can take lots of photos.
 - d) so you can download apps.