

Both, either, neither

Ex.1. Join the sentences.
Use both ... and.

Model: Jane likes tennis. Matt likes tennis, too. -
Both Jane and Matt like tennis.

1. Paul is French. Anne is French, too.

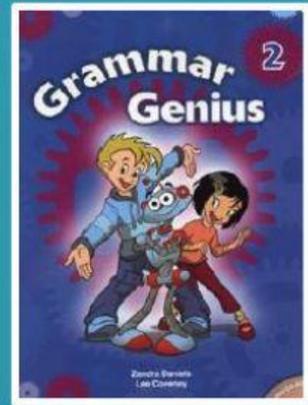

2. Kate has finished her homework. I have finished my homework, too.

3. Dave lives here. Ray lives here, too.

4. Mum is working. Dad is working, too.

5. The film is good. The book is good, too.

Both, either, neither

Ex.2. Write sentences.
Use either ... or.

Model: What does she want for her birthday?
(a necklace, a bracelet) - I'm not sure.
She wants either a necklace or a bracelet.

1. Who won? (Helen, Jake)

I'm not sure.

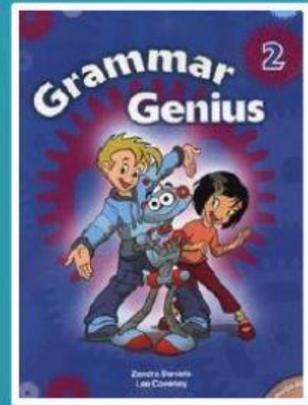

2. What did he buy? (a CD, a DVD)

3. Who made the cheese sandwiches? (Fiona, Sarah)

4. Who paid for the tickets? (Pete, Ian)

5. Who took the money? (Bill, Carol)

Both, either, neither

Ex.3. Join the sentences.
Use neither ... nor.

Model: Terry didn't see him. Jane didn't see him. – Neither Terry nor Jim saw him.

1. Dan can't help us. Eve can't help us.

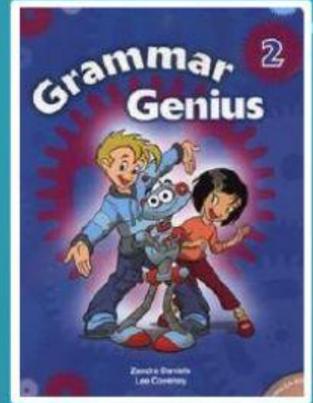

2. Jenny won't like the film. Adam won't like the film.

3. You can't dance. Lisa can't dance.

4. Fred didn't win. Diane didn't win.

5. Nick didn't go to the party. Pat didn't go to the party.

Both, either, neither

Ex.3. Choose the correct answer.

1. ... Ella and George have got dark hair.

(Both, Either, Neither)

2. Neither Olivia ... Sarah knew the answer. (and, or, nor)

3. He ate both the cake ... the biscuits. (and, or, nor)

4. ... my brother nor my sister can speak Spanish.

(Both, Either, Neither)

5. ... the manager or Mrs. Fox will see you. (Both,

Either, Neither)

6. Either Tim ... Emma will help us. (and, or, nor)

7. I'm going to buy ... the T-shirt and the sweater.

(both, either, nor)

8. ... Jo nor Tim had a good time last night. (Both,

Either, Neither)