Television has changed our lives in many ways. Many people now spend more time watching TV than doing anything else. However, television offers both benefits and dangers to us. Firstly, television helps us to learn about the world and to know and see many new things. Secondly, it entertains us. Moreover, television has increased the popularity of sports. People can see all types of sports on TV and watch very important football matches that take place in a foreign country. Television also brings us lots of disadvantages. It can make us passive. Watching TV doesn't permit us to do other activities such as reading, conversation, and games. We install ourselves in front of the TV and we keep on watching for a couple of hours without even realizing how much time has passed. All in all, we have to pay more attention at what we watch on TV and we should let children spend less time in front of the television.

1. People today spend more time watching TV than any other activity. _____
2. Watching TV can improve our knowledge of the world. _____
3. Only football matches taking place in our own country are broadcast on TV. _____
4. Television prevents people from communicating with each other. _____
5. We should not allow children to watch television. _____
