Hey Naila!

How have you been? It's my second week here in Alaska. I don't know if I will be able to survive this blizzard one more week! I'm not used to this level of cold weather.
The highlight of my trip is the race I'm attending this Friday. It's an annual local sled dogs race. The whole state prepares for it, so I expect it to be a well organized event. It's very competitive to the point that whenever I take a walk in the streets, I see dogs with their owners being trained. They are actually very well-trained, even the puppies are disciplined. May be you should bring your puppy Delilah here to learn from them! The racing dogs have a sense of direction. They are so adorable!

I'm very excited for the race and can't wait for Friday to come. I'll send you photos for sure!

Love,
Ahad
