

1. Match the parts of the paragraph on the left to the correct definition on the right.

Topic Sentence

Gives details to support and explain the main idea.

Supporting Sentences

Wraps up the paragraph; refers to/repeats the main idea.

Closing Sentence

Tells the main idea and or what the paragraph is mainly about.

2 Order the sentences with the correct part of the paragraph.

It's a lot of fun; You should live it at least once in your lifetime.

The Festival of San Juan is a traditional celebration in Spain, mostly in Cataluña and Valencia.

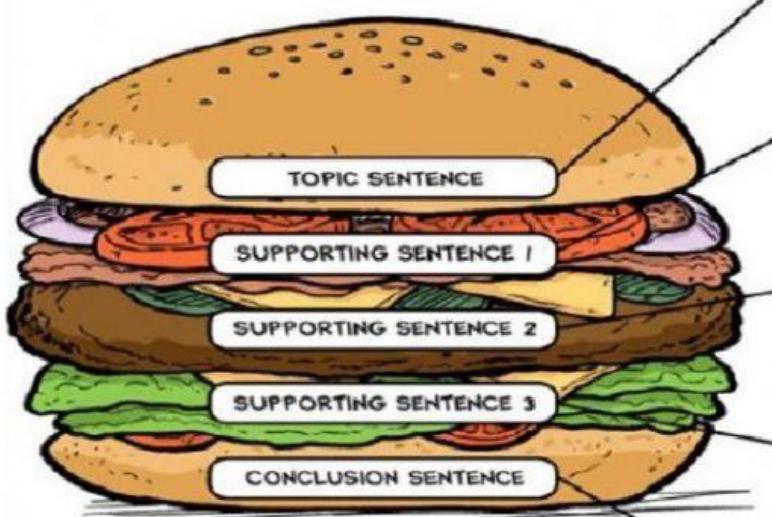

It is celebrated on the 24th of June, and the festivities normally take place at night, and on the beaches.

Sometimes, people jump over the bonfires or make wishes for the following year.

People use to light bonfires, and they gather around them to dance or listen to music.

THE FESTIVAL OF SAN JUAN

The Hamburger Paragraph

3. Order the sentences with the correct part of the paragraph.

They also begin to perform anxious acts, such as rocking back and forth, grooming or vomiting.

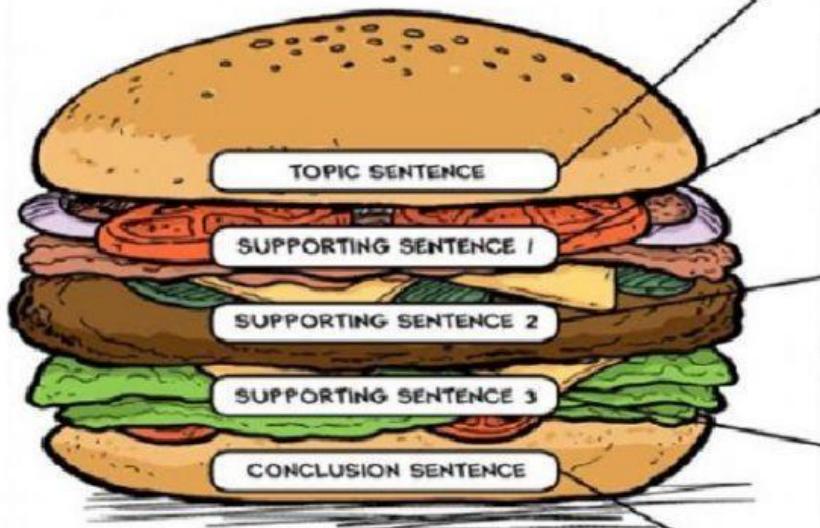

These conditions are known as "zoochosis", which is a dangerous condition for animals.

When they are captive, these beautiful creatures become bored and lonely.

All this clearly demonstrates that wild animals belong in the wilderness.

Removing wild animals from their natural habitats and keep them in zoos is incredibly cruel.

SHOULD THERE BE ZOOS?

The Hamburger Paragraph
