Hi! I'm Sue. Welcome to my blog. Today I'm going to tell you something about one of my classmates. Her name is Alex and she is a shy and quiet person. She doesn't enjoy speaking in public but she loves writing her blog. She is very creative and she writes wonderful stories about her pets and about endangered animals. She has a great blog!

Do you have any pets? I have a cat and Alex has two dogs. They are very sociable. Alex really loves animals. She always plays with her pets. She is a dog person but she doesn't like spiders. They are disgusting!

In her free time, Alex often plays with her pets and writes her blog. She gives her pets a bath twice a month and she brushes their teeth once a week.

What about your classmates? What are they like? Do they have any pets? What do they do in their free time? I'd love to read about your classmates.
