- 2 a Read Carl's story about a disastrous journey. Choose the best options.

My worst ever journey – though it was kind of funny, too – happened in India a few years ago. I wanted to get a train from Delhi to a town called Dehra Dun near the Himalayas. But half an hour before my train was due to leave, I ¹realised / had realised I ²came / had come to the wrong station. I ³was / had been sure my friend ⁴told / had told me to go to the station in New Delhi but in fact my train went from the Old Delhi station. I jumped in a taxi but when I ⁵got / had got to Old Delhi, my train ⁶already left / had already left.

So I bought a new ticket, waited a few hours and got on the next train. Everything was fine until I ⁷noticed / had noticed one of my bags ⁸disappeared / had disappeared. I ⁹remembered / 'd remembered that a strange man ¹⁰walked / had walked through the carriage some time before, so maybe he ¹¹took / 'd taken it. Unfortunately, there was an old camera in it with some pictures that I ¹²took / 'd taken of my grandmother just before she died, and also a hat some close friends ¹³gave / had given me. The other passengers were very kind and tried to help, but it was too late.

Later, we stopped at a little station in the countryside. Suddenly, a wave of water ¹⁴came / had come through the open window and soaked me to the skin! I ¹⁵forgot / 'd forgotten it was the Hindu festival of Holi, when people throw paints and water at each other. It's all meant to be fun, of course, but by that time I ¹⁶lost / 'd lost my sense of humour!
