1. Listen and write the words or phrases you hear. Choose their translation.

1.
So, you can program your Python code to go to the piece of text that ____ most _____ _____ this spike here, and it will say: “concern _____ ____ the possible impact of a Greek euro-zone exit has _____ _____ persistent volatility.” You can do this for each of these spikes, so it's very easy to label these spikes, you _____ ____ or Google what happened at that time, why? _____ ____ you have underlined text that you can go to.

2.
So, _____ _____ have something to think about, there`re times when you simply _____ _____ stop thinking. But how will you do that?

3.
...is that when you put yourself in that situation where you have that concrete deadline... Some people tell you to set goals, set deadlines. If there really isn't something concreted on that deadline, _____ _____. You'll change the deadline. But for me, these things where I have a concreted deadline, like I _____ _____ do that speech, there was no, "I'll do the speech two weeks later." That speech was going to happen. That was a concrete deadline, you know.

4.
Those who _____ _____ the bombings and the shootings.

5.
_____ _____ use story correctly here – you _____ first _____ _____ be thinking about the story, but first be listening. Listen fully and without judgement. After listening, empathize.

6.
Is it really _____ _____? Well, there’s a lot of germs (микробы) in the air that he still needs to _____ _____.

7.
No! I refuse to _____ _____.

8.
Finch comes up to me and says, «Jessica, I need your help with this, blah, blah, _____ _____.

LIVEWORKSHEETS

9.
Excuse me, sire, but there`s a very _____ _____ message from York.

10.
If you wish to discuss a complaint, _____ _____ you make a proper appointment.

11.
You have _____ _____ thousand emails _____ _____ LA Weekly.

12.
Yes, she says we need to get to feel that nakedness is normal. _____ _____we were all born naked and it's not something to be ashamed of. And, in the UK _____, it's generally not _____ the law to be naked in public. Hmm, I`m still not convinced, _____ _____ Donna Price, this freedom of expression is quite well received when she's out walking.

2. Write the following phrases.

1. несколько
2. срочный
3. относительно/касательно
4. чтобы
5. согласно
6. ответственный за
7. потому что
8. я предлагаю тебе
9. связанный
10. неважно
11. выполнять/осуществлять
12. необходимый
13. против
14. привыкать к
15. брать на себя ответственность
16. и т.д./и т.п.
17. приводить к

LIVEWORKSHEETS

3. Write 3 irregular verbs forms and choose its translation.

1. mean - _____ - _____ - _____.
2. tell - _____ - _____ - _____.
3. choose - _____ - _____ - _____.
4. lead - _____ - _____ - _____.
5. hear - _____ - _____ - _____.

LIVEWORKSHEETS