Why does man want to go to other planets in the solar system? Just for adventure? True, there is adventure in space travel. But a trip to other planet would also be practical. For example, space station could be built that would give us valuable information about the weather. In space stations moving around the earth, man could live and study the cloud in formation on its surface. These formations could tell us what weather to expect in any part of the world at any time. Such information would be very useful to pilots, to ship captains, and even to farmers who must set dates for planting and harvesting.
