

Tiger 4 Unit 5 ART GALLERIES AND SCIENCE MUSEUMS

1) Listen, read and match.

learn about machines

scientists

art

inventors museums

see

Art galleries and science museums

sculptures

art galleries

drawings

paintings

lives

technology science

Museums are fantastic places to and . In science , you can find out about the lives of and . You can learn about the history of and . You can great inventions. In , you can find out about the of artists. You can see their , and .

This is called Bertl. You can play Rock, paper, scissors with him. You can see Bertl in the Science Museum in London.

This is also in the Science Museum in London. It's from 1870. Look! It hasn't got pedals or tyres.

This painting is in the National Gallery in London. It's called in a Tropical Storm. It's by Henri Rousseau.

You can see different versions of this sculpture at museums around the world. It's a giant . It's made of metal and it's nine metres tall.

2) Read the texts with some missing words and drop the pictures above the right text.

3) Listen and fill the gaps.

Art galleries and science museums

4) Read the texts and listen.

Museums are fantastic places to learn about art and science. In science museums, you can find out about the lives of scientists and inventors. You can learn about the history of machines and technology. You can see great inventions. In art galleries, you can find out about the lives of artists. You can see their sculptures, paintings and drawings.

This robot is called Berti. You can play Rock, paper, scissors with him. You can see Berti in the Science Museum in London.

This bicycle is also in the Science Museum in London. It's from 1870. Look! It hasn't got pedals or tyres.

This painting is in the National Gallery in London. It's called Tiger in a Tropical Storm. It's by Henri Rousseau.

You can see different versions of this sculpture at museums around the world. It's a giant spider. It's made of metal and it's nine metres tall.

4) Read the questions and match with the correct answers. Then listen.

What can you see in a science museum?

The sculpture of the spider is nine metres tall

What can you see in an art gallery?

It's from 1870

What's the robot's name?

In an art gallery, you can see sculptures, paintings and drawings

Which year is the bicycle from?

In a science museum, you can see great inventions

Where can you see Tiger in a Tropical Storm?

Its name is Berti

How tall is the sculpture of the spider?

You can see this painting in the National Gallery in London