FOOD

One of the basic human needs is food. Food is important to life. The kind of foods eaten and their nutritional value have a direct effect on one's health and well-being. Therefore, it is important to eat healthy foods.

Food choices are influenced by the following factors:

- Location (Where people live)
- Cultural patterns and social interaction: (traditions festivals, homecomings, family gatherings,)
- Eating habits (bingeing, overeating, hunger)
- Accessibility (Income, purchasing power)
- Availability (local production, imports)
- Advertisements
- Food preparation (Fried, baked, jerked, boiled)

No one food gives all the nutrients that the body needs to stay healthy, so it is best to eat a variety of different foods every day. The foods that make up the daily food requirement should be low in fat and high in vitamins, minerals and fiber.

Foods that are high in fat, sugar and sodium (salt) should be consumed in small amounts.
