Today I am going to the library! I have to 1. _____ the story book I borrowed two weeks ago as I have not finished reading it yet! I love going to the library because there is a wide selection of books. I enjoy reading 2. _____ books as I love reading stories about gnomes, fairies and magical witches. However, my younger brother loves to read 3. _____ books on space, science and technology. He wants to be an astronaut one day! I handed my 4. _____ to the librarian so she can renew my book. However, her expression changed when she flipped through my book. "What is this?" she hissed while showing me a page. My face turned as white as a sheet as I realized that my brother had drawn all over the page with his coloured pencils. 5." _____ books is an offence. You may have to pay a 6. _____ for it!" she said in a stern voice. I apologized profusely and explained what had happened. Luckily, she let me off the hook with a 7. _____.

From that day on, I promised to take good care of library books! I have lived and learnt!

Let's write a short story using the pictures below

non-fiction	renew	warning

Let's rearrange the story!

I love reading non fiction books about space travel whereas Candice loves fiction books with lots of pictures. She was only four years old. I proceeded to the librarian and passed her my library card.

“Don't you know you should not vandalise library books?” she reprimanded me. I explained it must be my sister. However, the librarian did not let me off the hook. She gave me a warning and asked me to pay a fine of $10

Today I am visiting the library as I had to renew a book I haven't finished it. It was a charming day. My younger sister Candice and I love visiting the library every weekend.

Having no choice, I paid the fine. I learned to keep my library books safely from then on. It was a bitter pill to swallow.

However, she frowned as she inspected my book. “What is this?” she frowned. I discovered crayon markings on one of the pages. Candice must have done this!
