Amazing Argentina Defeat Dismal Italy to Claim Inaugural La Finalissima Title at Wembley Wednesday, June 01, 2022 at 9:47 PM by Byron Pillay Lautaro Martinez and Ángel Di María and Paulo Dybala all got onto the scoresheet as Argentina beat Italy Lionel Messi was a little maestro in the middle of the field as he constantly threatened the Italian defenders and goal Argentina cruised to victory over an underperforming Italy and claimed the inaugural La Finalissima title at Wembley Argentina are the winners of the inaugural La Finalissima. La Albiceleste beat Italy in the one-game at Wembley, thanks to goals from Lautaro Martinez and Ángel Di María and Paulo Dybala. Lautaro Martinez and Ángel Di María scored as did Paulo Dybala but it was Lionel Messi who pulled the strings as Argentina beat Italy for the La Finalissima title. Image: Mike Egerton/ Alex Gottschalk Source: Getty Images The Argentinian side dominated the first half but ironically it was Italy who had the only attempts on goal in the first 20 minutes. Giacomo Raspadori and Andrea Belotti both forced Emiliano Martinez in the Argentinian goal. Argentina then ramped up their efforts, with Lionel Messi pulling the strings. Messi came close to unlocking the Italian defence on more than one occasion and eventually did when he set up Martinez for Argentina's opening goal in the 28th minute.

Martinez then turned provider when he set up di Maria. Martinez broke away at the halfway line and tore down the pitch. He then fed di Maria who calmly and audaciously chipped Gianluigi Donnarumma to give Argentina a 2-0 lead at halftime. The Argentine achieved a rare feat in international football...

Lionel Messi scored five goals for Argentina against Estonia on Sunday in a 5-0 friendly win. The opposition may not have been the toughest, but the PSG star nevertheless put on a performance that saw him achieve a very rare feat.

How did Messi score his goals vs Estonia?

Goal 1: 8th-minute penalty

Goal 3: 47th-minute left-footed shot from centre of box

Goal 4: 70th-minute right-footed shot from centre of box

Goal 5: 75th-minute left-footed shot from centre of box

Incidentally, Messi is also the first player in history to score five goals in a club game (Champions League match against Bayer Leverkusen in 2012) and an international fixture.

La cadena de electrodomésticos Naldo, sponsor oficial de la Selección Argentina de Fútbol, lanzó un modelo original de motocicleta llamado «Scaloneta» que acompañará a la Selección en su camino hacia el Mundial de Qatar.

El rodado hizo su debut oficial durante el partido jugado en Wembley entre Argentina e Italia, recorriendo las calles de Buenos Aires, visitando estudios de televisión y mezclándose con los hinchas durante la previa del partido.

La «Scaloneta» es una moto de estilo italiano, celeste y blanca, identificada con los logos de Naldo y la Asociación del Fútbol Argentino (AFA). El día de su presentación generó una amplia repercusión en programas deportivos y público en general, que se expresó en las redes sociales a través del hashtag #subitealascaloneta

Desde la empresa invitan a todos a «subirse» a esta iniciativa a través de las redes sociales de Naldo, dado que hasta la Copa del Mundo habrá muchas sorpresas y, sobre todo, la posibilidad de ser dueño de una «Scaloneta» para llevar la pasión albiceleste en dos ruedas.
