

Friend: Peter, you're learning to drive, aren't you? Do you go to the AA Driving School?

Peter: Actually it's called the ABC Driving School.

Friend: Is it expensive? I want to learn to drive.

Peter: It's cost me a hundred and forty pounds already. I've had ten lessons and each one is fourteen pounds.

Friend: Is that for an hour?

Peter: Mm ... less than that - about three quarters of an hour.

Friend: I see. And is the teacher's car new?

Peter: Yes, and it's not a big car so parking's easy, but it doesn't go very fast! Friend: When are you going to take your driving test?

Peter: I failed it last week. The traffic lights were red but I didn't see them and I couldn't brake in time.

Friend- Never mind. You can take the test again. Tell me about your teacher. Is he friendly?

Peter: He's OK, he's quite young and interesting to talk to, but my father will give me my next lessons. He's cheaper!

Friend: Well, good luck!
