I grew up in the countryside in Poland. I suppose it was a <sup>1</sup> _____ nice place to grow up—there weren't many people in the village but I had a <sup>2</sup> _____ big group of friends and we always played outdoors. But it was <sup>3</sup> _____ exciting and I used to dream about living in a big city.

My hometown is a <sup>4</sup> _____ big place, but it's not huge. It's very close to London but this means the facilities are <sup>5</sup> _____ limited because most people go to London for entertainment and shopping. It's <sup>6</sup> _____ cheap to live there, because it's so close to the city.
