TEMUCO AND LAGO BUDI

"Mary mary wenu!" is the traditional Mapuche greeting and the best way to walk into the last indigenous bastion of the country. Bring out the warrior in yourself and get to know the cosmovision of these indigenous peoples that live among the ancient Araucaria forests and cristal-clear streams. Soak up the rustic smells and flavors, the best reflections of local culture.

Climb the high Ñielol Hill. From the top of this Natural Heritage Site you'll have an amazing view of a city that mixes countryside and modern world. Walking along its popular streets, you'll be surprised by the crowded university section, and its interesting history museums.

Season your food with a little merquen (smoked dried chili flakes), relax in the beautiful healing hot springs and end your day with a lively visit to the casino, the center of the city's nightlife.
