

Chapter 1 Part 6

Drag and Drop:

U. S. citizens representative democracy knowledge Representative democracy Pluralism Citizenship
Direct democracy initiatives and referenda Political knowledge Political efficacy

1. _____ (Republic)-a system of government in which the populace selects representatives, who play a significant role in governmental decisions-making.
2. _____ - a system of rule that permits citizens to vote directly on laws and policies.
3. The U. S. is a _____ - in which citizens select government officials but do not vote on legislation at the national level.
4. Some states and cities do provide for direct legislation through _____.
5. _____ - the theory that all interest are and should be free to compete for influence in the government; the outcome of this competition is compromise and moderation.
6. _____ - have responsibilities such as, upholding the constitution; obeying federal, state, and local laws; paying taxes, and serving on juries when called.
7. _____ - information about the formal institutions or government, political actors, and political issues.
8. _____ - informed and active membership in a political community.
9. Citizens need _____ in order to assess their interest and know when to act on them.
10. _____ - the belief that one can influence government and politics.