

My nightmare job interview

Last week, I had a job interview. The interview was on Friday at 9:30 a.m. in New York City. On Thursday evening, I prepared a presentation on my laptop and checked the train times and the address of the company. Before the interview, I felt confident. I went to bed early because I wanted to sleep well.

On Friday morning, the problems started. First, I didn't hear my alarm, and I woke up late. I didn't have time to take a shower or have breakfast. I ran out of the house.

It started to rain, so I stopped to buy an umbrella. Then I ran to the station, but I missed my train!

I felt quite stressed, but there was another train in twenty minutes. I called the company, and they changed the interview to 10:30 a.m. I felt a bit more relaxed. Later, I arrived in New York, and I checked my phone to see where the company was. But my phone had no battery! I was very late when I arrived at their office.

After I got to the interview room, I opened my bag to take out my laptop, but it wasn't there! I felt really stressed, and I had a terrible interview. I wasn't surprised when I didn't get the job!

Skill planning and making notes

Before you write a story about yourself, ask yourself the following questions and make notes:

- 1 When did it happen?
- 2 Where were you at the start?
- 3 What were the main events?
- 4 How did you feel at different times?
- 5 What happened in the end?

Match the notes with different questions in the Skill box.

- a fell asleep on the bus to the airport, didn't get off the bus at the airport, missed the plane, slept at the airport
- b last month
- c London, on vacation
- d got a flight the next day
- e tired (on the bus), stressed and angry (at the airport), very tired, but happy (the next day)

Write a preliminary draft. Revise to include extra details.

sequencers

We can connect events with words such as first, then, later, before, and after. We use these to show the time order of the events:

First, I got up late. Then I took a shower. Later, I went out for coffee.

We use before and after + a noun or verb phrase:

Before the interview, ...

After I got to the interview room, ...

Choose the correct sequencers to complete the sentences.

- 1 I always walk my dog in the evening before / after I go to bed.
- 2 First / Before, I had a cup of coffee. Then I went shopping.
- 3 I felt very tired on the trip home. Later / Before, I fell asleep on the sofa.
