

Salad Pizza

"What is this?" asked Hannah. She pointed to a spinach plant in Grandma's garden.

"It goes in a salad," said Grandma.

"I love salad!" said Hannah.

"I know," said Grandma. "Let's pick some." Hannah and Grandma picked a little spinach. They put it in their basket.

"Are those for a salad, too?" asked Hannah. This time she pointed at some chives.

"Yes," said Grandma. "These are skinny onions. Smell them." Hannah put her face in the chives. She took a big sniff.

"Mmm," said Hannah. "They smell good."

Grandma and Hannah washed their basket of vegetables under the hose. After that, they went inside to make lunch.

Hannah stood on a short stool. Grandma rolled out a ball of white dough. Hannah was puzzled. What kind of salad had dough? Grandma put red tomato sauce on the dough. Then she chopped the spinach and the chives. She sprinkled them on top. Last, she added cheese. Grandma put the salad in the oven. Now Hannah was really surprised.

"Grandma?" asked Hannah. "Why are you baking our salad?"

Grandma wiped her hands on her apron and laughed. She could see why Hannah was confused.

"Our salad needs to be baked because it is part salad and part pizza," said Grandma.

6 In this story, the basket is for —

- flowers
- vegetables
- muffins
- fruit

7 What did Hannah pick first?

- spinach
- onions
- tomatoes
- lettuce

8 What will Grandma and Hannah probably do next?

- put the pizza in the oven
- go into the garden
- set the table for lunch
- make a big green salad

9 The boxes show some things that happened in the story.

Grandma rolled out the dough.

Grandma chopped the spinach and chives.

Which of these belongs in the empty box?

- Grandma sprinkled cheese on.
- Grandma put tomato sauce on.
- Grandma wiped her hands.
- Grandma put it in the oven.

10 What did Hannah learn in this story?

- Things that grow in gardens taste funny.
- Making pizza dough is simple.
- Caring for a garden is hard work.
- Things that go in salads go on pizzas, too.

GO