Guess what? I've just arrived in Australia with my mum and dad to visit my older brother, who lives here. It's amazing! And the journey was really exciting! We got to the airport very early because we didn't want to miss our plane. We checked in all our bags, showed our passports and went through security. Then we sat and had a drink and watched all the planes take off. We could see our plane through the window. It was really big and there were a lot of people who were waiting to get on. Finally it was time to leave. The plane took off in the rain, and 24 hours later we landed in sunny Sydney. It was an amazing experience! We're here for two weeks, so I'll email you again soon!
