PUSS IN BOOTS

PÁGINA EVALUADA POR EL PROFESOR

By then, the King's carriage had reached the beautiful castle.

"Welcome to my master's castle!" said Puss.

The King was very impressed. "The Marquis of Carabas is a great man," he thought. "I shall get my daughter married to him at once!"

So, thanks to clever Puss in Boots, the poor miller's son became the rich, famous Marquis of Carabas.

As for Puss, he lived happily like a prince in the castle, and never had to hunt for a mouse ever again!
