Dinosaurs

Dinosaurs were large animals that lived a very long time ago. No one has ever seen a dinosaur, but people have found very old bones and have put them together to make a skeleton. There were different types of dinosaur: very tall ones which ate leaves from trees, small ones with wings that could fly, and those with very sharp teeth, which ate other animals. We don't know what colour they were, but we think they were brown. If we saw a dinosaur today we would probably feel frightened because they were so big and they could run fast too. Dinosaurs died out, but we don't really know why.
