

Subordinate and main clauses homework

Underline the subordinate clause in each sentence below.

One has been done for you.

After we had lunch, we went back to work.

I am not cooking your dinner unless you do the washing up.

We first met in London, where I lived until I was nine.

The car, which we bought last week, has broken down.

Even though it was midnight, the children were still awake.

They each drank a glass of lemonade after running around in the sun.

If I win the game, we can celebrate with a party.

The helicopter landed because it was too windy to fly.

When they had retrieved the ball, they went inside.

Underline the main clause in each sentence below.

One has been done for you.

Even though I had a bad nights sleep I am feeling energetic.

Before I get out of bed I like to think of my day ahead.

Don't run in the corridor because you might trip and fall.

Although it was sunny, we still wore jumpers.