

WORD FORMATION.

- 1- These new light bulbs are much more _____ than the old ones. ECONOMY
- 2- With the _____ of Janet, we all enjoyed the concert. EXCEPT
- 3- The minister's _____ was quite unexpected. ARRIVE
- 4- Despite the poor visibility, the pilot made a perfect _____. LAND
- 5- _____ we won't be able to go on holiday this summer. FORTUNE
- 6- What a _____ performance that was. MARVEL
- 7- Take this _____ scarf with you in case it gets cold. WOOL
- 8- Since the wall is not strong enough it will have to be _____. BUILD
- 9- It was a wonderful holiday - simply _____. FORGET
- 10- He won't tolerate any kind of _____. INTERFERE

PREPOSITIONS

FROM ON IN OF TO AT WITH FOR or no preposition.

- 1 _____ behalf of the senior partners, I would like to congratulate you _____ the way you handled the case.
- 2- Her pronunciation _____ particular, has improved but I am still disappointed _____ her attendance record.
- 3- Bernard never gets tired _____ listening _____ classical music.
- 4- _____ theory, the more advanced our technology becomes, the more likely we are to contact _____ alien life forms.
- 5- There has been an increase _____ the number of students leaving _____ school _____ the age of eighteen.
- 6- How can we prevent the cat _____ jumping off the balcony?
- 7- She's _____ tears all the time because you are so cruel _____ her. One of these days she'll attack _____ you.
- 8- We must find a solution _____ this problem _____ all costs.
- 9- Harold insisted _____ staying _____ bed despite _____ the fact that he only had a slight cold.
- 10- You're not going to blame me _____ your being _____ debt.

STAYING ATTRACTIVE.

For those people who _____ it difficult to stay slim or are disappointed _____ their looks, there may be a solution _____ their problems on its way into their lives. Instead of going on diets or working out in the gym, _____ will be possible to take tablets to lose weight or stay young. These tablets which _____ be as easy to take _____ vitamin pills should be available in the next decade.

Researchers have discovered a gene responsible for producing a previously unknown protein, UCP2, in animals. This protein is the _____ important substance in determining whether excess calories are stored as fat or burned off as body heat. Recently, UCP2 has been found in human tissue and drugs which increase the _____ of this protein are being tested _____ the moment.

_____ is also an exercise pill which acts as a hormone and increases metabolism. This pill will allow the user to lose about one kilo a month without _____ any exercise at all.

It is believed that the pituitary gland, where the growth hormone (HGH) is manufactured, is the key to youthful looks. HGH prevents skin _____ becoming" loose" and stops arteries "hardening ". Tests show that an increased level of HGH _____ people feel and look _____ younger. Pharmaceutical companies are _____ to develop special drugs called secretagogues to cause the pituitary gland to release more HGH _____ normal to help people hold on to their youth.

SENTENCE TRANSFORMATION

1- It is a soldier's duty to obey his superior. CARRY
A soldier must _____ orders.

2- The rent was lower than I had expected. AS
The rent _____ I had expected.

3- This is her first chess tournament. NEVER
She _____ chess tournament before.

4- He doesn't intend to stay for very long. GOING
He _____ very soon.

5- Harry didn't turn off his stereo when we came in. CARRIED
When we came in, Harry _____ music.

6- His answer to the first question is wrong. MISTAKE
He _____ the first question.

7- How can I reach the airport in the shortest time? QUICKEST
What's _____ the airport?

8- She tried as hard as she could , but she failed. DID
She _____ , but she failed.

9- Charles Dickens wrote his first novel when he was 25. AGE
Charles Dickens wrote his first novel _____ 25

10- Karen will never let you pay her share of the bill. INSISTS
Karen _____ her share of the bill.

11- Her brother didn't have nearly as much success in the job as she did.
MORE
She did the job _____ her brother.