The right way to change your job

What can you do if you can't stand <sup>1</sup> working in the job that you're in and you'd like <sup>2</sup> to find something different? Below are some tips to help you if you're in this situation.

First of all, you need <sup>3</sup> to think about what you like and don't like about your current job. This will help you decide the kind of job you want <sup>4</sup> to look for.

If you decide <sup>5</sup> to take a new job, spend some time updating your CV. Then send your new one to all your contacts. Learn <sup>6</sup> to be patient, because changing your job can take a long time!

Even if you hate <sup>7</sup> to go for work every morning, it's important to keep <sup>8</sup> going to the office until you have a new job.

When you get a job offer, plan <sup>9</sup> to leave your current job after you've had a holiday – imagine <sup>10</sup> meeting your new boss for two weeks off on your first day!
