

Going to

When we talk about our plans in the future, we use to be + going to + verb. Like this:

Next week, I am going to visit my grandparents.

Look:

I am going to eat pizza.
Are you going to visit Madrid?
She is going to study tonight.
We aren't going to watch a film.

Now you try!

1. I am / are / is going to see my sister.
2. You am not / aren't / isn't going to read.
3. She am / are / is going to eat dinner.
4. We am / are / is going to study after class.
5. They am / are / is going to drink water.
6. I am not / aren't / isn't going to listen to music.
7. He am not / aren't / isn't going to be in class.
8. It am not / aren't / isn't going to rain.
9. Maria am / are / is going to watch TV.
10. Aniol and Manel am / are / is going to go to school.

Write the missing word.

Ana is ..... to visit her aunt next week. She is ..... to travel by plane. Her aunt lives in Mallorca so Ana is going to ..... FLY there. They ..... go to the beach. They aren't ..... eat fish because Ana's aunt is vegetarian. Ana likes snorkelling, but they ..... going to go snorkelling because it ..... be cold. Ana is ..... to ..... HAVE lots of fun!