LEWIS AND CLARK

Meriwether Lewis and William Clark are famous American explorers. In 1804 President Thomas Jefferson wanted a map of the western United States because at that time people didn't know the area west of the Mississippi River. Lewis and Clark started from St Louis at the end of 1804 with thirty men and an Indian woman, Sacagawea. The weather was very bad and it was difficult to travel. They stayed for the winter with the Dakota Indians.	After the winter they travelled over the Rocky Mountains. The Indians helped them find the Pacific Ocean at the end of 1805. They discovered many new rivers and mountains and they measured everything for their maps. They started back at the start of 1806 and they finished their journey at the end of the year. They travelled 12,900 kilometres and discovered that North America was a huge place.
