

ADJECTIVES WITH PREPOSITIONS

Some adjectives go together with certain prepositions. There is no rule that says which combination to use.

Some can be used with different prepositions. Check some of them:

at	for	of	with	in good	famous	bored	pleased	interested terrible	good	afraid	angry	experienced to	from	about	on married	different	excited	keen close	made	upset	hooked

Choose the most suitable adjectives to complete the sentences.

Italy is famous for its pizza. for at Fruits are good for your health. at for My aunt is married to a French. with to

I am good at cooking. of at My mom was pleased with the results. with of Your phone is different from mine. at from

I'm keen on playing tennis. from on Peter's upset about his bike. of about

I'm bored of this game. of for