

Sarah: Hi, Mike. It's Sarah.

I'm phoning you about the food and drink for Samantha's _____ picnic on _____.

Mike: Hi, Sarah. That's good. What shall I bring?

Sarah: Well, I'm going to _____ some _____.

Why don't you bring some _____?

Mike: Maybe I could bring _____ ice cream instead?

Everyone likes it and I think it's going to be very _____ this weekend.

Sarah: Good idea! Can you bring _____? It's my favourite!

Mike: Sure. How _____ people are coming?

Sarah: There are going to be eight of us, including Sam.

Margaret has already made _____ cakes.

They're amazing - they look like little _____!

Mike: Cool! Sam _____ hamburgers.

Sarah: John wanted to make some _____ but he's been really busy _____ week so I think he's going to buy some.

Mike: Wow! We aren't going to be hungry! Is Phil coming?

Sarah: No. He's going to a pizza restaurant with _____ volleyball team.

Mike: What about Andrea?

Sarah: Yes. She's going to bring some fruit from her dad's _____.

He's got lots _____ apple trees.

Mike: Excellent! I think her dad grows _____ too.

Sarah: Yes, but she told me that they've already eaten them all!

Mike: Oh no! Is anyone bringing _____?

Sarah: Well, we can get some _____ from the café in the park and I think Eric is bringing some cola from his mum's shop

Mike: Cool! Shall I bring my MP3 player so we can _____ to music?

Sarah: Good idea. It's going to be _____!

Mike: Yes! See you on _____.