Conditionals 1 & 2

Read the conversation and then choose the correct forms.

Rachel: Have you heard about the pop festival?

Vicky: Yes. It is / It'll be good if Express are playing. They're a great band.

Rachel: Will you be able to go, Nick?

Nick: If I ask / I'll ask my boss, he'll give me some time off work, I expect.

Vicky: How are we going to get there?

Rachel: Well, if there are / there'll be enough people, we can hire a minibus.

Vicky: I won't be going if it's / it'll be too expensive.

Rachel: It isn't costing / won't cost much if we all share / will share the cost.

Nick: If I see / I'll see the others later on tonight, I ask / I'll ask them if they want to go.

Read the conversation and then choose the correct forms.

Matthew: I haven't forgotten your birthday, you know. If you like, I will book/ I would book a table for Thursday at our favourite restaurant.

Emma: My birthday is on Wednesday, Matthew. You're playing basketball then, aren't you? If you cared for me, you won't play / wouldn't play basketball on my birthday.

Matthew: What's the difference? If we went / we go / we will go out on Thursday, it'll be just the same. If I didn't play / don't play/ won't play, I'd be letting the team down.

Emma: Yes, I suppose it will be / it is / it would be a disaster if you missed one game.

Well, if you thought / you think more of your friends than you do of me, you can forget the whole thing.

Matthew: I just don't understand you sometimes, Emma. If you think / you thought about it, you'd understand.

Emma: And I think it is / it will be/ it would be better if we forgot all about my birthday.

Matthew: Don't be silly, Emma. If you get into one of your bad moods, it don't do / it won't do / it didn't do any good.

Emma: If you were interested in my feelings, I wouldn't get / I won't get/ I don't get into a bad mood.
