1. Read and write Ancient Egyptians, Ancient Greeks, or Ancient Romans.

   They lived in cities and built pyramids.

   They lived in city-states and built temples, theatres, and monuments.

   They built paved roads, aqueducts, and public baths.

   They created the Roman numerals.

   They created the first democracy and invented the Olympic Games.

   They used a form of writing called hieroglyphics and wrote on papyrus.

2. Write true or false.

   Ancient Egyptians lived in cities and built pyramids.

   Ancient Greeks lived in city-states and built temples.

   Ancient Egyptians created the first democracy and invented the Olympic Games.

   Ancient Greeks used a form of writing called hieroglyphics.

   Ancient Greeks created the Roman numerals.

   Ancient Romans built paved roads, aqueducts and public bath.

3. Name the following construction:

LIVEWORKSHEETS