The Middle of the World

In my country there is a monument called "The Middle of the World". This monument is considered one of the most important because, as its name indicates, it is located on the middle of the terrestrial hemisphere. It is _____ visited by many tourists. I've seen it a couple of times, _____ I think that its structure is so perfect that it stays upright thanks to the gravity that is there. Many people _____ say that you can place an egg in there and it will stand up on its own, due to the gravitational force that the hemisphere has developed. I have _____ tried it, but I would like to try one day.
